

ASRA General Plan Nearing Completion

2018 has seen continued progress on the development of a new general plan for Auburn State Recreation Area, with final plan adoption now expected to take place in the fall of 2019. Following extensive public input on four alternative proposals for future management of the park, State Parks in June made public its "Draft Proposed Action." For the most part the proposed action closely follows the extensive recommendations submitted by PARC for future management goals. We believe the current proposal, with a few modifications before it is finalized, will lay the groundwork for enhanced recreational opportunities and effective resource protection in the American River canyons for many years to come. State Parks has now received and reviewed comments on the proposed action from more than 500 individuals and organizations, and is currently developing a draft of the final plan along with a draft environmental impact report. Those draft documents will be available for public review and comment this coming spring.

We are pleased to report that the proposed action adopts PARC's call for construction of a trail bridge across the river at China Bar in the canyon below Auburn, along with related trail and river access improvements. Once approved, funded and constructed, this new infrastructure will connect the trail networks on each side of the river and allow China Bar's recreational potential to blossom. The proposed action also recommends adding parking spaces where feasible, increasing camping capacity in select areas, placing a bigger emphasis on education and interpretive opportunities, and improving resource protection and fire prevention strategies.

For more information on the proposed Auburn SRA general plan, please visit the State Parks website at www.parks.ca.gov/PLANASRA.

SNC's Jim Branham Honored at Retirement

PARC and Placer Land Trust honored retiring Sierra Nevada Conservancy (SNC) executive director Jim Branham with a retirement picnic on the North Fork at Mineral Bar. Jim was presented with an American River 'newtie fish' by PARC and a Placer County Commendation from Supervisor Jennifer Montgomery. Award winning watercolor artist Juan Pena provided a watercolor painting demonstration along the river while Sierra College Professor Emeritus Joe Medeiros sang the 'Praises of the Wild & Scenic North Fork'. SNC awarded grants for PARC's ASRA Guidebook and Map Projects as well as a Hwy 49 Bridge Debris Study to remove unsafe 49 Bridge metal debris in the river since the bridge washed out in the mid-1960s.

PARC Secures New Office Space

PARC has secured an office space in downtown Auburn at the General Gomez Arts & Event Center on Lincoln Way. This location is ideal for PARC! We will be able to use the event facility here for public presentations along with exhibiting river canyon art in the gallery. A grand opening celebration is being planned. We will keep you posted on the date.

PARC Donates Picnic Tables

By the time you receive this newsletter PARC will have donated and placed 5 new picnic tables in the Auburn SRA for your convenience and enjoyment in 2018. The best part of a hike is to drop your backpack and share food and conversation with hiking partners!

Working Meditation

Stacking stove wood on a hot afternoon,
I stop for a moment of rest.
Photons fall on my skin,
mingle into me making vitamin D,
a last vibration of summer.

Almond logs,
cut and split for a sixteen inch stove.
Started as select seed, sprouted to saplings,
grown in acres of rows, transplanted
and nursed into production.
They produce until the area under the curve of differential equation tells the manager 'nuts are in decline'.
It's firewood.
Not just one tree but the whole crop,
making room for the new bare-root stock.

Warm air rising from the ground
carries the smell of pine needles.
The slap of an acorn falls through a tree,
and a soft cackle above -
Sandhill cranes flying south.
All tell me
there is wood to be stacked.

Tahoe National Forest American River Trails Updates

Good news for Tahoe National Forest Trail fans in 2019. The TNF trail crew and the Great Basin Conservation Corps trail crew logged dead fall, brushed and corrected tread problems on the fabled Picayune Valley, Mumford Bar, American River and Beacroft Trails this past summer. These Sierra Nevada Mountain-American River trails feature a variety of world class attributes including the Granite Chief Wilderness, the 1868 John Mumford log cabin, (partially restored), Generation Gap Class V kayaking access and the “harsh mistress” Beacroft Trail rated most difficult by the TNF rising over 2,500 feet in 2.3 miles as it crosses the historic 40 mile long Iowa Hill Ditch that provided water for mining operations along the ditch length. Plans are to continue to restore the trail connection to the Sailor Bar - Trinidad Mine Trail.

The Great Basin Conservation Corps takes a break from trail work with Alex Wolfgram and his daughter Clementine near the American River Beacroft Trail intersection.

Auburn SRA Trail Crews Reestablished

Auburn SRA Superintendent Mike Howard has re-established a seasonal trail crew led by summer Whitewater Manager Josh Verseman. Josh trades his oars for trail tools and dedicated, trained ASRA staff to work with him to implement trail improvements. The trail tread soil is easier to work in the wet months. Josh recently completed intensive State Parks trail building and maintenance workshops. The new trails maintenance plan also calls for volunteer participation from the public. Learn trail maintenance techniques that will help keep our incredibly diverse and unique trails system in the park sustainable. The trails volunteer work schedule is listed at the bottom of the Auburn SRA home page http://www.parks.ca.gov/?page\_id=502. Please organize your trail loving friends for a work party with Josh and staff!

New Year's Night Moonlight Hike on Stage Coach Trail

January 1, 2019, Tuesday Night

Meet at 5:30 pm at the Stage Coach Trailhead parking area where Foresthill and Russel Roads come together in Auburn. Celebrate New Year 2019 on a moonlight Stage Coach Trail hike with the PARCsters and friends. Using an ultra violet spectrum flashlight we can search for scorpions and millipedes in the rocks, moss and leaves alongside this easy wide relatively flat former stage coach road-trail. The scorpions and millipedes glow in the black light! We will also be listening for screech and great horned owls known to frequent this area. The hike will be short -to the bench that overlooks the Confluence for a group picture- and then back to the trailhead. Approximately 2.5 miles round-trip. Dress warm in layers and bring a headlamp or flashlight. Rain cancels. For more information contact Eric at eriverpeach@gmail.com or 530-885-8878.

"Wall of Thorns"

Knickerbocker Area trail pruning opportunity.

The invasive Himalayan Blackberry has formed a wall of thorns on the popular Indian Grinding Rocks Pond Trail in the north end of the Knickerbocker Trails Area causing hikers to use a steep non-sustainable alternate route that is eroding the pond's earthen dam. Bring hedge or lopper type pruners, leather gloves and wear sturdy shoes and long sleeves. Learn more about the trails of this area that offer many loop hike opportunities. For a date and time contact Eric at eriverpeach@gmail.com or call 530-885-8878.

State Parks Foundation Earth Day 2019 Auburn SRA Cleanup

April date to be announced.

Meet at the American River Confluence 3 miles below Auburn near the Hwy 49 Bridge river crossing for a list of projects, cleanup supplies and snacks. Wear sturdy shoes and bring gloves and your own water bottle. Let's take good care of this essential natural habitat and excellent recreation area!

PARC Working to Improve American River Access

PARC board members continue to work to increase public access to the North and Middle Forks of the American River. With support from American Whitewater, PARC has been meeting with ASRA and PCWA leadership with the goal of increasing and improving river access at China Bar, The Confluence, and Mammoth Bar.

At China Bar, the Birdsall river access road is still closed due to damage from Winter 2017 high water flows, but the Bureau of Reclamation and ASRA are now evaluating plans to repair and re-open the road. Oregon Bar remains the only river access at China Bar, (open 4 days per week, Friday-Monday all year) but now there are more parking spots at the end of the road, and PARC is working to have ASRA repair the trail to the river. Road access directly to the pump station rapids is still needed, and PARC is working with ASRA and PCWA to provide temporary seasonal access via the existing but currently closed PCWA road.

Mammoth Bar river access is now open year-round after being closed last season. Please remember that there are sudden increases in the flow of colder water every afternoon due to hydroelectric dam releases upstream, and that there is a risk for swimmers and waders being swept downstream into the very dangerous Class 5 Murderer's Bar rapid. At the Confluence, PARC is working to create a boating put-in site with a convenient loading zone for boat drop-off.

Auburn State Recreation Area and The Pump Station Rapid area was the site of the 2018 Auburn River Festival
